

“Recreating Warren,” the City’s
2009 Revitalization Strategy, was commissioned by City Council in 2008.

Special thanks go out to:

- Mayor Michael O’Brien and Councilman Andy Barkley for leading the planning process, and spending endless hours meeting with us;
- Roselyn Ferris in the Mayor’s office for all her administrative assistance;
- Ruth Wissinger in the Engineering Department for mapping;
- Renee Wilson in the CD Department for placing drafts on the City’s web site and her prompt response to all requests for maps and information;
- Mike Keys and his staff for assistance throughout the process;
- Tony Iannuci from WRAP for providing significant information and historical perspectives;
- Jim Dalessandro and Tami Candella from Main Street Warren for assisting with the Central City area and for organizing meetings;
- Patti Limperos for providing the School District perspective and coordinating facility space for meetings;
- Summit Entertainment for facilitating a Visitor Survey at a concert at the amphitheater;
- All the individuals who met with us for one-on-one interviews;
- Mahoning Valley Organizing Collaborative and Wean Foundation for meeting with us, taking an interest in the City, and providing staff and resources;
- Council Members for attending special meetings, including neighborhood sessions, to better understand the process and recommendations;
- All Department heads for meeting with us and providing information when requested;
- Neighborhood Association leaders and residents City-wide for persevering and attending so many meetings; and
- All Steering Committee members for their guidance, input, and meeting attendance.
